Little Hope Seen For Extending War Debt Moratorium

Plans of Smith Fail to Find Favor With Democratic Leaders—Debt Payment Included in Budget—Moratorium Expires in June.

Washington, April 18 (AP).—Despite Senator Johnson's prediction that there will be another moratorium on war debts when the present one expires in June, no expectation is held in administration quarters that President Hoover will initiate such a step.

Since Johnson gave his views to the Senate last week, new contributions to the debt question as put forth by Alfred E. Smith and Nicholas Murray Butler have been receiving study. But it can hardly be said that suggestions for adjustments of the debt have had any real effect.

It remains to be seen how far former Governor Smith will get with his plan for a 20-year moratorium, during which this country would write off as paid each year 25 percent of the gross value of American products which the debtor nations buy from us. Judging from the reception given when it was proposed by him, his Democratic conferees are mighty reticent about giving support.

Nor has there been any chorus of assent in Republican councils for the conviction recently expressed by President Butler of Columbia University that any political party or candidate opposing a debt readjustment "merely declared in favor of prolonging the existent depression."

Johnson Sees Extension

Senator Johnson said he believed that "in control of us" are getting ready to give "another moratorium on $270,000,000—$520,000,000 in all"—to be followed ultimately by revision and cancellation of the debt. Because this runs contrary to the administration position, as it became evident after the decisive congressional vote last fall against revision, the turn of events will be followed extremely closely henceforth.

Secretary Stimson left for Geneva with an administration announcement that he would discuss only disarmament at the Geneva Conference, and would not go into debt and reparations. The administration has taken the position that reparations are strictly a European problem, since the United States is not collecting any reparations, and must be settled by Europe.

The great powers of Europe will meet at Lausanne, Switzerland, in June to decide primarily what shall be done about reparations. Germany has said she cannot continue payments, the first due July 15, and has been supported in that position by international economists who met at Basel and analyzed German finances.

Consequently the Lausanne meeting will have for its first task the decision as to what is to be done about Germany's prospective early default.

Failure of Germany

Much of the money which other powers have been paying on debts to the United States has been obtained from Germany. Consequently a discontinuance of German payments will compel nations which do not default in payments to the United States to find other means of raising these sums.

The one year moratorium which the United States granted postponed payment of $252,000,000 for the current fiscal year, that is July 1 of last year until June 30 of this year. For the next fiscal year, ending June 30, 1933, a total of $269,875,000 will be due the United States, and this has been included in the budget as money the United States expects to receive.

On December 15 the first large payments will fall due, so there will be four and a half months after the Lausanne Conference for the European powers to make arrangements about these obligations.

Great Britain is the chief debtor of the United States and in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, must make payments aggregating $171,500,000. For the same period other power obligated to pay are France $60,000,000; Germany $15,700,000; Italy $14,790,000; Belgium $8,450,000.

Motorcycle And A Dog In Collision

About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon a dog tried to mix it up with a motorcycle driven by Frank Fuscardo of R. F. D. 4, East Kingston. With the result that the dog was killed, Fuscardo was removed to the Kingston Hospital in the ambulance for treatment for his injuries, and the motorcycle was damaged.

Fuscardo was driving on Clifton avenue on his motorcycle when a dog owned by Myron Silkworth rushed out into the street barking and ran directly in front of the cycle with the result that the animal was killed and Fuscardo hurled off the machine.

Police headquarters received a hurry call for the ambulance and the young man was rushed to the hospital where it was found he had been injured about the face, nose, legs and hands.

Endorse Proposal.

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP).—The New York State Council of Polish Democratic Clubs met here yesterday and endorsed Mayor Walker's proposal for "beer parades" on May 14.

Six Cases Before Judge Culloton

Six cases were brought to the attention of Judge Culloton in police court today, ranging from charges of reckless driving to selling meat on Sunday.

Simon Miller, a butcher of 61 Chambers street, was arrested Sunday morning on a charge of selling meat from his auto truck. He was picked up after police headquarters had received complaints from residents of that street. This morning the hearing was adjourned to April 25.

Saturday evening the cars driven by Miss Mary P. Bott of 66 Andrew street and Fred Weeks, Jr., of Allen street, were in collision on Andrew street. As a result of the crash both drivers placed each other under arrest, charging reckless driving. This morning Miss Bott was represented by Attorney Chris J. Flanagan, while Weeks said he expected to retain Attorney Frank Brooks. The hearing was adjourned to April 20.

Dante Battali of Poughkeepsie arrested on a charge of driving to the left of the traffic standard at North Front and Wall streets, forfeited $5 cash bail by failure to appear in court.

William Reilly of San Francisco, who was panhandling on Wall street on Saturday, was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Dairymen's League To Organize Branch Of Home Department

Object of the Department Is To Interest Women In The League—Assemblyman Davis In Charge of Meeting.

At a largely attended meeting of the Dairymen's League of Ulster county, including the ladies, held in Epworth Hall of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Saturday afternoon, steps were taken to organize a branch of the Home Department of the League in Ulster county. This is a movement that has already attained good proportions in League territory although not hitherto taken up in this county.

An appropriation of $50 from the treasury of the county organization was made to carry on the preliminary work and a chairman and secretary of the proposed organization were named. Mrs. Charles Everett of Wallkill was elected chairman and Mrs. H. M. Eppes of Accord secretary. Miss Anna Schoonmaker of Accord, field worker in the Department, will have active charge of the work, which will begin about May 1. The first step will be the holding of meetings of the president and directors of each League local in the county at which one of the women connected with the local will be chosen as a delegate to represent the district. When delegates have been selected from all the locals a training school will be held, probably in Kingston, at which the details of the work and what it is hoped to accomplish will be explained.

Assemblyman Davis Presided.

The meeting Saturday was in charge of Assemblyman Millard Davis, president of the Dairymen's League of Ulster county. Following a good dinner, served by the ladies of the Clinton Avenue Church, President Davis spoke briefly on conditions in general. He did not find things very flourishing in the milk business, any more than in business generally at this time, but thought that perhaps it might be a good thing to change from an attitude of pessimism to one of optimism, with the idea that the world generally is as good as it feels like. He was proud of the way in which the League was weathering the storm and said that he would rather hold stock in the Dairymen's League than in any railroad. Mr. Davis advised his hearers to live a little closer off the farm these days and to "sit tight" and wait till things come down. In certain lines, particularly farm implements, before making purchases.

H. J. Kershaw First Speaker.

Mr. Davis introduced as the first speaker H. J. Kershaw, one of the oldest directors of the League in point of service and who has represented the Chenango county district for some years. Mr. Kershaw said that he spoke in place of Chester Young, treasurer of the League, who was unable to be present. He had addressed a large meeting of dairymen at Cobleskill Friday evening, coming there from Catskill, where he had spoken to a gathering in the afternoon.

Mr. Kershaw said that it was unnecessary for him to tell his hearers that things were in a serious condition, that "no person living has seen our country in such condition." Referring to the World War, he said that "we are paying for four years of madness and paying compound interest." Speaking from the viewpoint of the marketing end of the milk business he saw "no bright spots at all." He held that present milk conditions, however, were unfavorable to blame that the producers were to blame.

The speaker continued his discussion by emphasizing the necessity of organization among milk producers in the New York milk shed and the great natural advantages they possessed, with a great market at their door and restrictions that worked to their benefit.

The surplus of fluid milk, said the speaker, is the leading problem and it is the proper control and regulation of this surplus that it has been the object of the League directors and officials to achieve. He did not blame the dealers for wanting cheap milk, as it was simply a matter of business with them. It was up to the producer, if he would save his business, to meet organization with organization. Unless this is done and the present situation corrected it will mean bankrupt farms and many dairymen going out of business. This will result eventually in a milk shortage, an extension of the milk shed and a complete loss of their milk industry by farmers who will be unable to compete with cheaper milk that will flood their market from the west.

Mr. Kershaw said that the present situation could not have happened had the farmers stood together and that milk prices would go back in 30 days if the producers did the right thing.

In closing Mr. Kershaw paid a tribute to the work done by Chester Young, the League treasurer, saying that "you should be proud of your director, Chester Young, who has played no small part in the finance of the League."

Explains Work of Department.

Miss Vera McCrea, head of the Home Department of the Dairymen's League, was next introduced. Miss McCrea gave a very pleasing and interesting talk on the work of the department, the object of which was said to be the interesting of the women in the work of the League, giving them a more complete knowledge of the details of its business, the requirements necessary for its success and teaching them ways in which they could be of help in carrying on its work. The idea was also brought out that a strong Home De-

I. C. C. Recommends Relief Allotments Of State For Period Prior To June First

City of Kingston Allocated $5,000 and Ulster County Given $2,000—Allotments Exhaust State Funds To June 1.

Philip J. Wickser, John Sullivan and Harry L. Hopkins of the State Temporary Relief Administration announced the allotment of the $125,000 recently appropriated by the legislature for direct grants to municipalities before June 1. The administration has also allotted a fund of $25,000 similarly appropriated by the legislature for work relief on state projects.

The $25,000 fund has been allotted to the Conservation Department for work relief wages with the stipulation that $15,000 of the money be used for men to be supplied by the Suffolk County Work Bureau; $5,000 for men from the North Tawanda Work Bureau; $2,500 for men from Essex county for work at the Crown Point Reservation; and $2,500 for men from the Beacon Work Bureau.

In announcing the allotments, Mr. Wickser, chairman of the administration, said "The administration has made a survey of local conditions throughout the state and estimated to the best of its ability emergency needs for the period until June 1. The principal considerations in making the allotments have been to assist districts where local funds have been liberally appropriated and are now exhausted, and also to prevent work bureaus where ever they have been efficiently operated from closing for lack of funds, and thus to avoid throwing men out of work at this time."

"With the limited state funds available the administration is unable to cope with need on a wide front for the need is uniformly very great throughout nearly the whole state; consequently only the most critical emergency situations can be dealt with by direct state grants. The allotments announced today, with the exception of a very small sum, completely exhaust all state funds available for work relief prior to June 1."

"After June 1 the law provides that both work and home relief shall be on a 40 per cent reimbursement basis as home relief is now. Ample funds remain for home relief reimbursement prior to June 1 from the $10,000,000 designated for that purpose as part of the original $20,000,000 appropriation made last year. The grand total allocated as state aid for work relief on city, county and state work projects, including today's allotments, aggregates just over $9,650,000."

The new allotments from the $125,000 fund announced today are: Nassau county, $25,000; Yonkers, $25,000; Utica, $25,000; Buffalo, $22,000; Lackawanna, $20,000; Schenectady county, $20,000; Rochester, $15,000; Cattaraugus county $15,000; Binghamton, $15,000; New Rochelle, $15,000; Onondaga county, $10,000; Monroe county, $10,000; Dunkirk, $10,000; Fulton county, $10,000; Oswego county, $10,000; Ogdensburg, $10,000; Auburn, $5,000; Hudson, $5,000; Tonawanda, $5,000; Cortland county, $5,000; North Tonawanda, $5,000 in addition to $5,000 given to the Conservation Department for men to be drawn from North Tonawanda; Norwich, $5,000; Port Jervis, $5,000; Oneonta, $5,000; Kingston, $5,000; Orange county, $5,000; Gloversville, $5,000; Cortland city, $4,000; Watertown, $2,000; Beacon, $2,500 in addition to $2,500 given to the Conservation Department for men to be drawn from Beacon; Cayuga county, $2,000; Ulster county, $2,000; Warren county, $2,000; Greene county, $1,000; Glens Falls, $1,000.

Investigating For Five Years.

The commission's decision brings to a close an investigation which has been under way for the last five years.

Leo J. Flynn, an examiner, who with Commissioner Brainerd conducted the investigation, several months ago submitted a proposed report recommending regulation of trucks and busses.

The commission's decision carries out his recommendations to a large extent.

Asserting that "The federal government is wholly inexperienced in this field of regulation" the commission said it deemed "it wise to make haste slowly."

His recommendation is, therefore, said the report, "that Congress provide at once to put federal regulation to the test so far as transportation of passengers by motor busses is concerned. This would provide an organization which would serve as a nucleus for such further steps in motor vehicle regulation as experience and added information may show to be desirable and practicable."

"We also recommend that immediate authority be exercised over motor trucks of both the common carrier and contract type to the extent necessary to locate those which are operating in interstate commerce and obtain from them such information in regard to their operations as the commission may reasonably require."

"In this way data will be secured which, as the legal situation clarifies, will be of great aid in pointing the way to further regulations in the public interest."

"Our recommendations, therefore, must be regarded in the light of a progress report. They do not cover the utmost which we believe will ultimately prove necessary and desirable in the way of federal regulation of motor vehicles. They represent merely the first step which we believe is wise and practicable to take under existing conditions."

Robberies Confessed.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 18 (AP).—The two largest payroll robberies ever committed here have been confessed, police said yesterday, by Herbert Christian, 23, of this city. He took $10,000 from shoe company paymasters last July using a toy water pistol, and he got $6,000 April 1 from washing machine company paymaster. He used a real pistol the last time. He was arrested Saturday.

Charged With Cutting Son-in-Law

John McManus of East Kingston was brought to the Ulster county jail by Deputy Charles McCullough to await a hearing at 7 p. m. today before Justice John Acker. McManus paid a visit to the home of his son-in-law in East Kingston following which the latter had to have five stitches in his hand to close up cuts made by a pocket knife.

partments would do much to raise the morale of the League members and to keep them interested in its success.

Miss Anna Schoonmaker of Accord, a field worker, who is to have charge of the work of the proposed Ulster county Home Department, told of the work she has been doing in that line in Pennsylvania. After taking action towards organizing a department in Ulster county the meeting was adjourned.

Flashes of Life Sketched In Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Hilton, N. Y.—When they made cradles in 1922, they made cradles in 1922. Mrs. Lloyd Burritt has one made in that year. In it have been rocked five generations of her family—and it looks good for five more.

Avon, N. Y.—The sparrows are smart, but they can't feel the folk out this way. One bird later built a bird house for weeks last year, being an entrance about as large as a quarter. During the winter the sparrows have perched at it with their bills, enlarging it sufficiently so that they could use the house. The bird house owner, however, has chucked them out and filled the opening with an iron washer. Let the sparrows try pecking at that a while.

Jamnagar, India.—Silver anniversary mean something in India. The Jamsahab of Nawagar, celebrating the 25th year of his rise to the throne, has given to the poor his weight in silver—and the Jamsahab is a husky fellow.

Chicago.—George Sanders, negro, figured his meal should cost 18 cents. Nick Anas, restaurant cashier, figured it should be twenty. They fought all over the place for the two cents. Finally Anas shot Sanders in the right wrist, and went to jail. The restaurant was wrecked.

Portland, Me.—The way to deter mice the locality of an iceberg, says Captain William Mead, who calls among them, is by the smell. They have a "musty odor," the captain said.

Amsterdam.—The professional smugglers remember their pain. More than 160 of them turned out for the funeral of one of their number. The smugglers were a bit demonstrative, however, and were arrested for holding a demonstration without permission.

Drink Through Skin.
Frogs absorb water through the skin; never drink it. They do not breathe, but swallow air. When the skin splits as the frog grows old, he quills it off and swallows it.

Let Tree Roots Breathe.
Tree roots need air as well as moisture. Where sidewalks or roadbeds come near to tree trunks, several inches of open soil should be left around the tree.

Y. M. C. A. Drive To End This Evening

Tonight is the final report night of the more than 120 workers who have been busy during the past week soliciting funds to carry the local Y. M. C. A. throughout the coming year. A fine spirit has been manifested among the workers so far, and fine results have been tabulated each night of the campaign. Over $7,000 has so far been subscribed, and it is hoped that tonight the workers will have completed their task, and will retire with a splendid service well completed.

The following men have been serving their various team captains during the past week:

Division A—Fred L. Van Deusen, chairman; Burt Van Deusen, secretary; Captain Earl S. Leemon, H. C. Gill, H. M. Riemann, H. C. Schwenk, George A. Hayes, Carl Preston, Benjamin Suskind, Wallace Buley; Captain Harold Davis, I. W. Scott, Byron Stevens, Francis Phillips, C. T. Finley, W. W. Brady, Jr., Alfred Finley, and Dwight McEntee; Captain S. Tonight also winners, both individuals and team, of the socks, neckties, shoes and fountain pen which were announced early in the week, will be presented with their various prizes as a symbol of a work well completed. It is still too early to give their names, as a complete upset may show up this evening, and it is everyone's race.

There is also quite some competition among the three divisions. Each chairman claims that he has the finest division. That question too will be settled tonight, although it is doubtful the losers will admit defeat. Keenest competition is between Stan Winne and Fred Van Deusen, who have been only a few dollars apart throughout the entire campaign.

The meeting tonight will start promptly at 6:30, and a special program has been arranged.

Attack On Roosevelt Reveals Smith Of '32 Not The Smith Of '28

By BYRON PRICE.
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)

When the biographer of Alfred E. Smith records for posterity the many dramatic episodes of that fascinating career he will be obliged to pause and ponder as he reviews the surprising evidence of 1932.

He will realize that something has happened to the Smith of the previous chapters, so that after the defeat of 1928 he no longer can be fitted into the old familiar mold. He will see either a different Smith, or the same Smith choosing to play for the time being a role out of character with the earlier years.

In his whole career The Happy Warrior never before has put on the robe of mystery, and kept even his friends guessing. He never before, when the time came to strike, spoke as he did at the recent Jefferson day banquet in Washington in veiled phrases without mentioning the name of his antagonist.

Why suddenly has he done these things? One way of looking at it is to assume that the responsibilities of 1928 taught him a new finesse, a new courtesy, refining and stabilizing his great political acumen. The other assumption is that his defeat destroyed some of his self-confidence and impaired his sense of proportion. This, of course, is for history to decide.

The mere fact of his break with Franklin D. Roosevelt, after their long friendship, need not in itself be considered strange. Political history is strewn with the wrecks of similar alliances.

What astonished both politicians and voters was that Smith did not speak out directly about this break, just as he did when he was battling with William Randolph Hearst, and as he has been doing all of his political life.

There has been so much doubt whether he really was a candidate against Roosevelt that his own friends have complained repeatedly.

They have protested that he stood before the public in a position so equivocal as to make it difficult to marshal votes for him.

This situation he has permitted to continue while Roosevelt was rolling up a strength which is certain either to nominate him or give him a veto power over the convention. If Smith felt so strongly against Roosevelt as he finally indicated on Jefferson day, why did he delay the direct attack until Roosevelt had the nomination almost within his grasp?

A Changed Smith.
And when he did make the attack, was it at all like him to leave so much to inference?

In 1928 Smith carried over into national politics a lifelong habit of aiming his blows directly, without feint or restraint. He spoke of his opponent merely as "Hoover."

On Jefferson day his attack on Roosevelt did not mention the name Roosevelt at all. His prepared manuscript referred to "a prominent Democrat." In delivery he abridged even that, saying that "somebody" had said so and so.

The manuscript was passed around among the assembled Democratic leaders before delivery. It contained a paragraph saying it would be better to prolong the convention all summer than nominate quickly a weak candidate. Smith was advised that these words were too strong. When the speech was given, the paragraph was omitted.

It was nothing new for him to revise his speeches during delivery. He did that repeatedly in 1928 but the revisions usually were much more militant than the original.

Independent.

When the complete inside story of the 1928 campaign is written, it will show that on many occasions Smith refused flatly to listen to the counsel of his closest allies.

Some of his friends regretted his attitude as one of unwise stubbornness. Some admired it because of its independence and directness.

Now that he is doing more listening and less plain speaking, the same difference of opinion persists, and time alone can say whether he has grown or diminished in stature.

Children Health Clinics To Be Held

Farm Bureau Spray Information Service

The fruit growers of the county are now getting ready for the spray season. The Farm Bureau Spray Service is watching the development of insects and diseases and the development of buds to accurately time the spray applications.

The spray service is designed to reduce the highest possible percentage of marketable fruit, so as to enable growers to compete with fruit from other sections of the county. It is supported jointly by the Farm Bureau and about 50 fruit growers who pay a special fee of $15 a year in addition to their Farm Bureau membership.

W. J. Clark, assistant manager of the Farm Bureau, has full charge of the spray service. Mr. Clark maintains a "trouble hour" from 7 to 8 a. m. every week-day morning, at Highland, telephone 239, where fruit growers can call him in regard to special problems and special visits.

In addition to the spray letters sent out to all Farm Bureau members, a telephone relay system has been organized, so that all the special cooperators can be reached very quickly in emergencies.

Timely spraying is very essential. Matter of a few days may mean complete control or failure to control a particular insect or disease, according to Mr. Clark. If any fruit growers are confronted with any problems, it is suggested that they get in touch with the Farm Bureau. Constant contact is maintained with the State College, the State Experiment Station and the Weather Bureau, to make the spray warning as accurate and timely as possible.

Three Miners Shot by National Guardsmen

Cadiz, O., April 15 (AP).—Three miners were shot as they fled from the National Guardsmen protecting mines in the Eastern Ohio bituminous coal field today.

The three men, said to be striking miners, were wounded after a crowd of 400 twice stormed a barricade erected in a road leading to the strike-ridden Somers mine of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company near Adena. The first time the crowd retreated after Guardsmen fired into the ground, but the second assault was not stopped until three men fell. All were shot in the legs.

Convinced the Guardsmen intended to halt their march, the assailants retreated and miners employed in the pit went to work as the soldiers stood on guard nearby.

Two more guard strongholds were the scene of shootings today. One was the barricaded outpost on the Buchanan road, not far away. An attempt to smother the second outpost was thwarted when the soldiers fired shot to scatter the attackers.

Guard officers reported the soldiers did not fire directly into the miners. They said the bullets were directed at the ground, and the three men were hit by deflected bullets.

Radio Talks by Priest Schoolwomen's Club Deplored by Cardinal Met at Beacon April 16

Cardinal O'Connor of Boston, according to a special story today in the Herald Tribune, talking Sunday as a "Catholic Critic" and not as a priest, severely criticized the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, famed Catholic radio speaker, for his Sunday radio talks.

Although he did not name Father Coughlin, the Cardinal identified him beyond doubt. The head of the Catholic hierarchy in America significantly stated that in the Catholic Church organization "the priest has his place and he had better stay there; better for him and better for the world at large."

"But the radio, it is new and has brought new problems. Now individual priests try to speak to the whole world. That is all wrong. Let him speak to his own parish, his own people. To do otherwise creates disorder and confusion."

"There is a man in Florida or Michigan, I forget which, who talks every Sunday afternoon. He talks to the world. What right has he to do this? If he talks about those things which are religious, we do not mind."

"The individual in Michigan takes it into his head to talk to the whole world. To whom is he responsible? Some people prefer to talk rhetoric instead of facts."

"This Sunday afternoon radio address has been stopped for the season. I am glad, for it was going a little too far."

The committee made no use of the list of short sellers furnished by Whitney Saturday under subpoena and the names were withheld.

APPEAL: April 17th to 25th

The Answer
A "dry" majority it boasts.
The true, and yet
At times we must concede
Cockroach is all wet.

Aunt was entertaining her two nephews, and thought to educate them by the way. Putting out two pieces of cake, one much larger than the other, she said:
AUNT: Now I want to see which of you have the better manners.
Johnny (he grabbed the big one):—Oh, Jimmy has!

Tired Business Man (sighed the evening train for home)—I've had a hard day. One of the office boys asked the afternoon off to attend his aunt's funeral. So, being on to his scheme, as I thought, I said I'd go along too.

His friend (chuckling)—Was it a good game?

Tired Business Man—That's where I lost out.

There may be a shortage of other things, but with a pre-arranged campaign on this year is going to see a tremendous overproduction of lunk.

George: It hurts me, George, to think how you have changed. To think you used to catch me in your arms every night.

George: Yes, dear, and to think that now I catch you in my pockets every morning.

A Judge has ruled that there is no obligation to shout "Fore" when one is about to drive a ball in golf. Most of us, however, will continue to flatter ourselves.

Johnny was sent to the store with instructions to hurry back. A long time later he came in panting and putting as if he had been running. His mother was, of course, very angry.

His Mother—Johnny, what took you so long? I told you to hurry back.

Johnny—I did hurry back, I ran all the way. But you didn't tell me to hurry both ways.

Judge—What happened after the prisoner gave you the first blow?

Witness—He gave me a third one.

Judge—You mean a second one?

Witness—No, gave the second one.

Apple Blossoms

Lanes I know where the south winds blow.

And Spring is in the air; Down from the drift where the pink boughs lift.

Fall the blossoms fair. Each light wing on a bough a-swing

Shakes them down in a rosy wing—

O, for Spring and the blossoms, Sweet apple blossoms.

Hours I know that are rare and slow; When Spring is in the air;

Love must be told while the days are gold.

And the blossoms are fair; Brave lad, and dear, brown lass,

'Tis for you that the springtimes pass;

O, for youth and the blossoms, Sweet apple blossoms.

Years must go, be they swift or slow, Each has its springtime fair;

Then once again in the fragrant lane

Drift the blossoms fair; Come, winds, and dear, brown bees,

Come, birds, to the orchard trees; Youth waits there with the blossoms—

Sweet apple blossoms.

Housewife—Just because I gave you a lunch the other day, that's no reason why you should send all your friends here.

Tramp—Lady, they weren't my friends.

"When a girl gets kissed by me—she stays kissed," remarked a Kingston man. But that, dear friend, is every man's secret illusion about himself.

When the roll is called up yonder, what'll we dip in our coffee?

FARMERS URGED TO RAISE FOOD, NOT COTTON CROP

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—Farmers in Oklahoma's cotton belt have been urged by the Oklahoma A. & M. college extension division to raise food for themselves and feed for livestock this year rather than another cotton crop.

With the largest cotton carry-over in the history of the state, farmers will be unable to depend on this crop alone for a livelihood, a pamphlet being distributed warned.

GAS BUGGIES—Tues. Eve. Thru.

YOUR LAWN NEEDS FOOD AND PROPER TREATMENT

Your dull, drab lawn is waking up from its winter sleep for spring.

is here. Spring means the grass shoots, like the hibernating animals, ready for a square meal. Now animals are able to go out and hunt for their food but the grass shoots in your lawn are stationary, they must depend upon you.

If you want your lawn to look its best all through the growing season, set out your garden tools and spend a little time on your lawn. Clean 2 quarts per 100 square feet, up, first of all. Use the rake gently, so that you do not injure any roots which may be left near the surface as a result of winter heaving. After you have cleaned up the lawn use the lawn roller to smooth out and to firm the soil.

Now that you have the lawn cleaned up, give it its breakfast. Make it a balanced meal. The easiest and best way of assuring your lawn getting sufficient of all of the plant food elements it needs, is to feed it a complete plant food. 4 pounds, applied evenly, is the right amount of complete plant food to use at this time.

You will probably find a number of bare spots on your lawn where the grass has been winter-killed. A day or two after feeding the lawn take your rake and loosen the soil on the bare spots. Reseed them with good grass seed. Roll these reseeded spots and water them with a fine spray. Keep these areas damp until the young grass is well established.

STATE BUYS 2,563 ACRES IN TOWN OF SHANDAKEN

Albany, April 18.—One of the largest tracts ever acquired from a single owner in the Catskill area has just been purchased by the State Conservation Department as an addition to that section of the Forest Preserve lying within the borders of Catskill Park. The tract embraces 2,563.3 acres and is located in the town of Shandaken, Ulster county. It includes about one mile of frontage on Esopus Creek, which is one of the most popular fishing streams in the Catskills. Its southern boundary follows the height of land running on to Panther and Giant Ledge Mountains, north of which the purchase includes practically all of the upper slopes of Fox Hollow. The forest growth over the entire area ranges from second growth forest to mercantile timber.

Approval of title has been given by the Attorney General's office to Conservation Commissioner Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and vouchers for payment to the owners of the chase price have been forwarded to the Department of Audit and Control.

Economy Measure Up To House Committee

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Whether President Hoover's wishes for a single big economy bill will prevail today was up to the House Economy Committee to decide.

With the executive's entire program in hand and a voluminous explanation of its details presented by the budget director, the committee was asked by Chairman McDuffie (D., Ala.), to choose between presenting Federal pay reduction plans to the House tomorrow as a rider to the appropriation for congressional funds, or let all savings lie over to the end of this week or the beginning of the next.

Prospects favored the President's idea on the basis of committee sentiment so far displayed, but the entire Hoover economy program was too bulky and contained too many points of difference with ideas of House Democrats to permit the committee to draft a measure for the whole thing by tomorrow, as originally planned.

Besides differences over pay cuts—the President wants vacations with pay eliminated, the five-day week instituted for day-rate workers and a month's furlough without pay given virtually all the higher salaried employees, while McDuffie is holding out for a flat 11 per cent pay cut—Mr. Hoover is seeking authority to reorganize the departments and bureaus by executive order, subject to a 60-day veto period by Congress. The Democratic leadership has been exceedingly cold to that line of thought, and many Republicans have shown no enthusiasm at the idea of relaxing legislative control.

Ashokan Reservoir Rapidly Filling

Although there was little snowfall during the early portion of the winter, late snow and heavy rains during the past few weeks have practically filled the Ashokan reservoir. The upper basin is full and the lower basin is near the high water mark. A considerable flow of water is still coming down the main stream of the Boreas and the smaller streams which flow into the Ashokan basin are running full. Snow on the higher peaks of the Catskills will continue to supply these streams for some time. The present high level of the Ashokan reservoir assures the city of New York of an ample supply of Catskill mountain water during the coming summer season.

FLY AND BAIT CASTING EXHIBITION WEDNESDAY

Much interest has been aroused among local fishermen over the exhibition of expert professional fly and bait casting to be given in the state armory by "Fly Rod Bill" Cook and "True Temper" Curly Moulton on Wednesday evening of this week under the auspices of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association. Invitations to this affair have not been limited to the fishermen of Kingston but have been extended to cover the whole county through the member clubs of the Ulster County Federation, and responses indicate that large delegations will be on hand from Saugerties, Ellenville, Rosendale, New Paltz and other points.

It is to be remembered that admission to this affair is absolutely free to all interested fishermen whether or not they are members of any sportsman's organization. Arrangements have been for several local experts in the field of fly and bait casting to appear in friendly and informal competition with "Bill" and "Curly" and this feature is expected to add considerably to the interest of the evening's entertainment.

A big crowd is expected and attending fishermen are urged to be on hand early as the exhibition will start promptly at 8:15.

Old Gravestones Of Ulster County

A monumental addition to the printed records of Ulster county just has appeared in the stately volume entitled, "Old Gravestones of Ulster County," an invaluable compilation of 22,000 inscriptions upon old gravestones collected and edited by Dr. J. Wilson Poucher and Byron J. Terwilliger, with a gracious introduction by Judge Hasbrouck, president of the revived Ulster County Historical Society, the imprimatur of which appears upon its broad and handsome title page.

Every descendent of the old Dutch, Huguenot, English and Irish families of Ulster county owes to Dr. Poucher and his colleague, Mr. Terwilliger, an undying debt of gratitude for this work.

Laboriously and tirelessly they visited all the old graveyards of the county and copied the fading inscriptions, in many instances rudely carved upon crumbling native blue and red sandstone and limestone.

They have produced a volume that will rank with the finest and the best publications of any of the great historical or genealogical organizations of this or any country—a volume that deserves and will receive a prominent place among the genealogical compilations of all the great universities of the land.

To the memory of those whose names are inscribed in the pages of this imposing book, may I pay that lofty tribute of Augustus to those who built the empire he inherited: (Fide et Fortitudine). They lived by Faith and Fortitude.

Roosevelt Arrives For Campaign Talk

St. Paul, April 15 (AP)—The agricultural northwest took a close look today at Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and wondered whether it would bear an echo of his recent radio speech and the apparent exception taken to it by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

For tonight Gov. Roosevelt, giving one of the rare public addresses of his presidential campaign and the first since Smith denounced him inferentially for a "Demagogic attitude," will deliver a speech he traveled nearly 1,500 miles to make. There was no word from him about his topic, but as he stopped in Chicago yesterday on the way here, it was apparent to interviewers he attached as much importance to the local address as did political observers.

He began writing the manuscript on leaving Albany and it was not finished when he and his party, which includes Mrs. Roosevelt, took five hours out at Chicago to receive visiting political leaders and discuss New York's $100,000 participation in the 1933 century of progress exposition.

The remarks Smith apparently aimed at Gov. Roosevelt were occasioned by a radio address the New York chief executive made about ten days ago. Subsequently, Gov. Roosevelt promised to give a detailed explanation of some of the points he had raised. Restoration of the farmer's buying power, relief to small banks and home owners, and a revised tariff policy.

It was regarded likely that explanation, especially relating to the agricultural points, would be forthcoming tonight. And the grain country, four of whose states—Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin and North Dakota—already have given Roosevelt their endorsement for the Democratic presidential nomination, hoped to hear of agriculture and of Smith.

At The Theatres

Today.

Kingston: "The Crowd Roars." The thrills and dangers of the race track, the roar of the crowd, racing cars spinning into death as drivers lose control, all these exciting scenes coupled with a love story that is different and interesting are to be found in "The Crowd Roars," with James Cagney, Joan Blondell, Ann Dvorak and Eric Linden. The show is filled with fast action and splendid acting from start to finish, and the thrills and chills of the race track are brought before the audience in a realistic manner. Twelve famous racing drivers contributed their skill in this talkie, but it is the work of James Cagney and Joan Blondell that is the outstanding part of the show. Good entertainment.

Orpheum: "Silence" and "Nevada Buckaroo." Another double feature offering, the first being a rapid action melodrama with Clive Brook, Peggy Shannon and Marjorie Rambeau in the leading roles. The second is a tale of the wide open spaces with Bob Steele, accompanied by his horse and gun.

Broadway: "Seven Paramount Vaudeville Acts" on the stage, and "Wayward" with Nancy Carroll and Richard Arlen on the screen. The vaudeville bill brings the following specialty acts: "Gallagher, Shean, Jr. and Co.," "King Nawah and Co.," "Donald Kerr and Co. with Ann Faye," "Edith Karen and Boys," "Saber and Ford," "Chappelle and Stevett," and "Dainty Ann Howe and Co." "Wayward" offers Nancy Carroll and Richard Arlen in a story of young love, and the problems that beset a young couple. Pauline Frederick is also in the cast. There are some bright moments in this talkie.

Ritz: "The Passionate Plumber." Any show that has Buster Keaton in it is bound to be funny, but when Jimmie Durante and Polly Moran are also in the cast, the picture ought to be a riot of laughter. This show is just that. It is one of the most hilarious, original and genuinely rib tickling comedy pictures that has been offered the movie going public in some time. The picture has a love story, combined with some of the funniest antics the screen has ever shown. This play should go a long way in making people forget that there ever was a depression. Beside the splendid work of Keaton and Durante, Irene Purcell and Gilbert Roland also contribute some fine acting. And the work of Buster Keaton, which is both crazy and enjoyable, will make anybody realize that Mr. Keaton is one of the finest comedians in the moving picture industry. Laughable entertainment.

(By The Associated Press.)
Rochester, (P.)—The New York State Embalmers' Association will have its semi-annual meeting here April 26-28, inclusive. Speakers will include Joseph R. Parker, of the New England Institute of Anatomy. Demonstrations will be given at the school of medicine in the University of Rochester.

Hilton, (P.)—Mrs. Lloyd Burritt has a cradle 110 years old and used by five generations of her family. It is of mahogany, with spool legs, and is in excellent condition. Her grandfather, Isaac Smith, born in 1822, was the first to sleep in it.

Whitehall, (P.)—Here's a story which will interest the men who write those advertisements about the durability of some kinds of water pipes. Workmen have uncovered a section of the original village water main, laid in 1828. And—copy readers note—in spite of its 104 years underground, the pipe was found to be in first-class condition.

Avon, (P.)—A bird lover here seems finally to have outwitted some English sparrow guests. He built a wren house last year, with an entrance hole about the size of a quarter. When the wrens had left, the sparrows worked on the hole with their bills, enlarging it until they were able to get through. The wrens are about due back, and the bird lover has ousted the sparrows and fitted an iron washer over the hole they enlarged. He hopes this ring of iron, with a small opening, may become the symbol of a contented wren home.

Waterloo, (P.)—Waterloo High School is proud of its girls' basketball team. The girls won 14 of the 16 games on their schedule, just ended, and scored 329 points to 159 for their opponents.

Mount Morris, (P.)—Gold meant for the teeth of Dr. Charles C. Rizzo's patients constitute the loot taken from the dentist's office by burglars. Besides the bulk gold, they extracted gold that had been placed in sample "store teeth."

New Method Boosts Corn Yield.
Urbana, Ill. (P.)—A year's experiments with top-dressing, a new method of corn improvement, have prompted University of Illinois farm specialists to predict a 20 per cent increase in yield by use of the method.

New York City Produce Market

New York, April 15 (AP).—The stock market wobbled uncertainly at the start of the new week today.

While the improved sentiment in banking and brokerage circles which developed last week was still apparent, the week-end business and trade reports failed to provide enough encouragement to banish the cautious attitude toward stocks, and trading was sluggish, even the bond market, after the sweeping gains of last week, was given a breather.

After a morning sag which carried some stocks to new lows, the market was bolstered for a time by a ripple of buying in the rails. The market turned heavy again by early afternoon, however, American Telephone was sold in some volume, sagging 2 points to a new low since 1921. It then recovered partially, but met fresh selling on the upturn.

U. S. Steel sagged a point to 32 1/2, after a morning low before meeting support.

Eastman dropped 3 points and Coca-Cola 2. In the rails, several issues sold up a point or so, including Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, Union Pacific and Santa Fe, but in the main, there advances were short lived.

Reports from the steel industry indicated a slight pickup in production this week, with a little expansion in buying by automobile makers.

Investment advisory services' week-end surveys showed considerable divergence of opinion over the outlook. One leading service said security holders were warranted in expecting definite improvement will gradually occur. Another looked for duller times during the late spring and summer, and lower prices. More optimistic sources appear to be placing considerable stress upon the reserve system's credit expansion program.

Reserve Circus a Success

The Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. have their annual circus on Saturday afternoon and it was truly the circus they have ever produced. There were about 150 girls in the cast besides a number of the high school girls and volunteer workers who assisted with the various groups in the entertainment. The circus packed the gymnasium to doors and in fact took up quite a lot of the space that had been reserved for the various acts but no mind. Everyone was in a happy mood. First of all was the parade, to the music of "Stars Stripes Forever". With all the performers in a big ring singing the song, "Circus Day Has Hit Y". Rubie Toague, the ringmaster, gave the speech of welcome. Timmy Murphy, animal trainer, on some very important acts with big elephant and the wise old man, the four horses in their various dances, and the animal concert, Virginia Reel. Right in the middle of the act came the big green dog, with his monstrous yellow d, which delighted all the little children present.

Miss Otilia Riccobono was in charge of the many acts and the circus was well as being chief of the performance and deserves a great deal of praise for her accomplishment. First came Spanish dancers, then some wild acts in a dancing number with Miss Betty McIntire doing a special act as a Russian dancer. Next Scotch Lassies in their dance a specialty by Ruth Britt, then a troupe walker and her assistant, Gloria Silverman and Florence Kowalsky.

Much to the delight of the children there then appear the Mickey Mouse group in a unique wedding ceremony. First all the guests with a special song and dance, then the bride and groom, and the dance of the flower girls. The old giraffe, the minister who performed the ceremony for Minnie and Mickey, was an adorable little ringmaster to make the ceremony complete. Mickey and Minnie then did a tap dance as did all their attendants. About sixty children took part in the Mickey Mouse group, came some varied dances, first Japanese, then the soldiers with a specialty by Mildred Ludwig, then Dutch boys and girls, with a specialty by Ruth Britt, then a little with Indians, cowboys, horses, a specialty with Florence Rafsky as the cowgirl and Jane Ball the cowboy. One very funny number was the Flora Dora Girls, their very attractive one was the same girls. Little Miss Marjorieaney then made the farewell speech, and the circus was over—all the ice cream cones and the other jack and candy which sold and furiously to the big crowd.

Special credit is due to Miss Lillian Herdman, Girl Reserve secretary, and Miss Katherine Millard for efficient management and direction of the cast and their many acts. It is only regretted that the gym was not large enough for the large dance who attended.

71, 'Second Mother Jones' Leads Striking Ohio Miners

Hollister, Ohio, (AP).—With poverty and misery stalking through the Hocking-Perry county coal fields, where 10,000 coal diggers have been on strike since February 1, a 71-year-old woman is bearing the burden of leadership.

She and Mrs. Mollie Robinson Crain, known throughout the Hocking valley as "the second Mother Jones" and as "commander-in-chief of the miners."

Mollie Crain has been active in union councils for 40 years, because, she says, "the men needed a woman to keep them level."

The wife of a miner and having lived among miners all her life, she knows their problems and understands their sorrows.

Hundreds of homes where want is apparent have been brightened by her visits. There is hardly a miner's home in the entire valley where she is not personally known.

When she hears of a case of destitution and no other help is in sight, she will hasten to the home, with a basket of food and medicines gathered from her own meager store and pocketbook.

But when a strike is on she becomes the militant leader. In many recent "marches" upon non-union mines she has enlisted the women and children and headed their wavering line alongside the men.

No union meeting is complete unless she is one of the orators. When she rises to speak a thousand men will listen intently. And when she finishes they cheer her to the echo.

"It's just as well to starve not working as starve working," she tells them, urging them to stand by the union against wage cuts.

But her emotions are not of the radical type. She addresses the miners as sons, brothers, fathers, husbands. She herself is the mother of several grown children.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Bridal gowns with matching negligees are worth noting, the latter garments featuring capelet sleeves and incrustated borders of lace. Double chiffon negligees with flowing sleeve attachments extending from lace incrustated at the elbow, also complement nightgowns.

The increasing prominence of ostrich cloth for coats and suits is noted, in blue, brown and beige. One of the favorite types has a jabot collar and high-placed fabric belt.

Vionnet and Schiaparelli treatments of the high waist are especially favored, while the Lanvin coat with curved seams through the bodice appears in a dressy interpretation with ermine collar and cuffs.

ORGANIST TURNS JAILER AFTER 17 YEARS AT KEYS

er here, Wormald was a musician in various branches of the show business.

Once he played calliopes with circuses and carnivals. Later he played the drums in a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., orchestra which claims credit for originating trick sound effects.

The Three-Quarter Coat Gains in Smart Favor

New York Spring being somewhat less traditionally uncertain, women are finding their smart warden. Coats are making a comeback. The three-quarter coat is very much the fashion between seasons. While there are many styles worn, there are a good many costumes about which one feels in doubt. They might be smart or they might be dresses or coats. Now that the contrast of the three-quarter coat has been applied to coats and suits that any thing may happen. Vionnet seems to have started something interesting when she made her satin topped coat, for one sees many copies and still more adaptations of it.

It has also come to pass that white pique collars or lapel facings are worn on coats, and coats being collared, themselves, make a great point of displaying either the collar of the dress beneath, or the scarf.

Scarves are more easily controlled now that the sport pin has been launched. This bears little or no resemblance to the masculine scarf pin but is nevertheless a pin to hold a scarf. Women who wear Ascot scarves are taking to the idea of wearing a long gold safety pin diagonally across them, or else are holding the ends down with the clips like a man's scarf. Both pins and clips are smart. It is also developing that girls who have wrapped flannel shirts such as men wear are taking also to collar buttons and, if the mannish shirt goes over, it will undoubtedly bring neckties into vogue and, very possibly, stockpits.

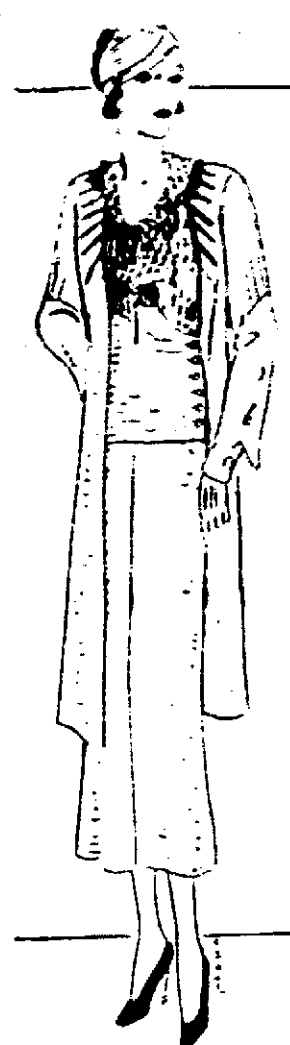

The ensemble sketched has some interesting features, not the least of which are the length of its coat and the fact that it is collarless. The three-quarter coat is gaining favor, for there are obviously many to whom it is more flattering than the jacket, especially the very abbreviated types most in vogue.

The curious union of chiffon and tweed has been mentioned before as being approved this season. Weather permitting, women are expected to turn to cotton blouses, especially organdy.

Chinese Motifs Revived

New York—A smart shop is showing two afternoon frocks in a crepe print with a white pattern which suggests Chinese characters on a black ground. Still another shop shows two printed evening dresses, ribbon sash.

A CLEVER ENSEMBLE

Tagging Major League Bases

By HERBERT W. BARKER

Not since the days before the first ball first invaded the major leagues have pitchers demonstrated such striking early-season mastery of the batters as they have this year.

The season is barely a week old yet the pitchers have written the records 12 games in which the opposition made not more than five hits.

Darry Vance of Brooklyn and Hal Schumacher of the New York Giants have contributed two-hit masterpieces. Vic Sorrell and Earl Whitehill of Detroit and St. Johnson of Cincinnati have pitched three-hit games. Monte Weaver of Washington and Whitlow Wyatt of Detroit have four-hit contests to their credit. The five-hit hurlers include Pat Caraway of the Chicago White Sox, and Dick Coffman and Sam Gray of the St. Louis Cardinals; Ed Brandt of the Boston Braves, Ed Holley of the Phillies, and Guy Bush of the Chicago Cubs.

Schumacher Stars

Schumacher, young St. Lawrence University graduate, pulled the Giants out of a slump with his excellent effort yesterday and enabled them to beat the Braves, 6-0. Johnny Verger's home run with the bases filled was the big blow in the Giant attack. Urbanski got both of the hits Schumacher allowed.

Holley's first five-hit game gave the Phillies a 2-0 triumph over Brooklyn in 11 innings. A single by Chuck Klein, double by Don Hurst and triple by Hal Lee decided the duel.

Bush stopped the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and the Cubs won 4-1 with Kings Stephenson driving in three runs. Pittsburgh scored three runs in the ninth to beat Cincinnati, 4-3. In the other National League game of the day.

In the American League, St. Louis nosed out the Detroit Tigers 1-0, although Vic Sorrell allowed only three hits. A pass to Goslin, followed by a sacrifice and Kress's single produced the winning run in the eighth. Coffman gave the Tigers five scattered singles.

Fox's Third Homer

George Earnshaw fanned 12 men as the Philadelphia Athletics trounced Washington, 11 to 3. The A's drove Fred Marberry out of the box in the fourth inning and battered three other Senator hurlers over the rest of the route. Jimmy Fox hit his third homer of the season.

Cleveland stopped the Chicago White Sox, 6-1, on a six-hit pitching performance by old George Connolly. A White Sox castoff, Willie Kamm, another former White Sox star, collected three hits, was walked twice, drove in four runs and scored another.

Weather Scores

Cold weather forced postponement of the New York Yankees-Boston Red Sox game at Boston, and gave Babe Ruth a chance to come down with an attack of grippe. The Babe did not expect to travel with the team for an exhibition game at Springfield today but probably will start in the double-header scheduled for Tuesday.

All Stars Stopped By Chilly Weather

Poor baseball weather prevented the Kingston All Stars from practicing at the Athletic Field Sunday morning when only a few of the players showed up for the scheduled drill. After tossing the horseshoe about in the chilly air for a short time the men left for home hoping that next Sunday would bring sunshine and warmth in their behalf.

Practical Idea

England of the Saxon and Norman times worked on the "corn basis." The court shifted around, mainly between London, Winchester and Gloucester during each year, so as not to eat up supplies in one district, nor require all supplies to be sent long distances.

SPORT SLANTS By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Sun Beau's record winnings on the American turf will be tougher to beat now than ever, not only because of the death of the Kilmear veteran's nearest rival, Phar Lap, but because of the dwindling size of many of the big stakes for 1932 on nearly all tracks.

If the Agua Caliente Handicap, won by Phar Lap, had not had its added value cut in half, the great Australian gelding would have menaced Sun Beau's total of $376,744. The race was worth $100,000 in 1931.

As it was Phar Lap wound up his career with a grand total of $332,250, in second place.

The two stars of the American handicap division this season, Mate and Twenty Grand, have a chance to surpass Sun Beau's total this season and so has the renowned filly, Top Flight, with over $200,000 already to her credit and engagements to run this year in most of the big three-year-old events.

Mate needs about $104,000 to go ahead of Sun Beau and Twenty Grand must win $118,000 to turn the trick.

Here's how the first ten rank now on the money-winning list, including all horse-racing territory:

	Races Won	Money Won
Sun Beau (U. S.)	33	$376,744
Phar Lap (Aus.)	37	$332,250
Gallant Fox (U. S.)	11	$328,165
Zer (U. S.)	23	$313,639
Isinglass (Eng.)	11	$291,275
Donovan (Eng.)	18	$277,215
Mate (U. S.)	15	$273,425
Blue Larkspur (U. S.)	10	$272,070
Twenty Grand (U. S.)	12	$259,925
Display (U. S.)	23	$256,526

Phar Lap Worth Plenty

Phar Lap could have been sold for at least $100,000 and possibly $200,000 before the untimely death of the Australian invader in California.

Had he been an entire colt, instead of a gelding, Phar Lap's value to the thoroughbred industry would have been closer to the half-million mark even in these times.

The horse's owners, who carried no insurance, were said to have refused several tentative offers. They had no reason to be hasty about the matter, with the prospect of Phar Lap's value being increased by subsequent victories in Chicago or New York.

Hec to Move

From out around the big slope comes the gossip that Hec Edmundson, who has had such conspicuous success at developing University of Washington track teams, as well as basketball quints, may be lured from the tall timber to California or perhaps a big eastern university.

It is said the University of California will offer the track job to Edmundson when the veteran Walter Christie goes through with his retirement, reported to be scheduled for the end of the current season.

Edmundson's record has attracted more than ordinary attention because of the group of real stars he has turned out at Seattle, including Herman Brix the American shotput record holder; Paul Jessup, the discus tossing record holder; Steve Anderson, best of the American high hurdlers in the last Olympics, and Eddie Genuing, the American half-mile champion. Paul Kiser, a first-class miler, was another of Edmundson's pupils.

Beware of Luxury

Decline in civilization has always been due to civilized people becoming so idle and weak from luxury and frivolity that a simpler stronger people overcome them.—Country Home.

Explaining "Catfish"

There is a legend that catfish are so called, not because they look like cats, but because they make a purring sound when taken from the water.

Ulster County Gun Club Scores

The two activities which were decided upon at the recent team dinner of the Ulster County Gun Club are well under way. Last Saturday the five members at the traps tried out the 50 target shoot for the day's prize which was 25 gallons of Cities Service gasoline. The first 25 targets were shot from 16 yards, the second 25 from the yardage established by first score. The sum of these two scores plus added targets as shown by club handicaps to be final score, and high score to win. There was a very strong wind so all scores were low, only three 23's being made during the afternoon, one each by Blood of the Saugerties Club, Finch and Coles of local club.

The gas shoot resulted as follows:

Van Gonsle ..... 16+3+15=37

F. Chaffee, Jr. .... 20+4+15=39

Chaffee, Sr. .... 21+1+17=39

Finch ..... 23+0+17=40

Coles ..... 22+0+19=41

News from the World on Wheels

Automobile companies carry on their testing work on the theory that the proof of the pudding is in the eating. For several weeks two Packard cars have been weaving through the traffic of downtown Detroit 24 hours a day on a test which still is in progress. At the same time another Packard car is circling about in a steady grind under the glaring sun of Death Valley, California. Still another is mountain climbing in California.

One other test car is on a transcontinental run. This work is in addition to the daily testing at the Packard proving grounds, where cars are operated the year around on a 24 hour basis. The Packard proving grounds are equipped with a two and one-half mile concrete speedway, rated as the fastest in the world. Test cars are traveling around it constantly. One of the standard tests at the proving grounds is to drive a car sixteen hours over the winding dirt roads and then run it at high speed eight hours on the speedway. This routine is followed until the car has covered 40,000 miles. It is then completely disassembled and every part is minutely examined and measured. Two cars are running on this test now.

Prominent Boxing Contests This Week

New York, April 15 (AP)—American boxers stand by this week to repel a major invasion of stars from Australia, Spain, France and Mexico.

Australia's middleweight hope, Jack Kilbourne, victor in four straight bouts in this country, will meet Dave Shade, California veteran, in a ten rounder at the White City Arena, Chicago, Thursday night. Despite his many years in the ring, Shade is still more than a match for most present-day 160-pounders.

Billiard Matches Scheduled Tonight

Two billiard matches are scheduled for tonight as follows:

At the Kaslich parlor—Tony Gentile vs. Steve Kaslich at 8:15 o'clock. The contestants are even in the semi-final round of the Kingston championship. Gentile having won the first match 100-75 and Kaslich the second, 100-88.

At the North Rondout Social Club—Johnny Naccarato vs. Harry Ertel at 7:30 o'clock. Naccarato is the favorite.

Dempsey Suspended, Schmeling in Danger

Chicago, April 15 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, today was under suspension in National Boxing Association territory, and Champion Max Schmeling was in danger of being barred by the group.

General John V. Cline, president of the N. B. A., has upheld the Mississippi Athletic Commission in the suspension which was imposed on the basis of charges that Dempsey, his manager, Leonard Sachs, and a promoter, Ned Parsons, had left $2,000 in unpaid bills after a "Dempsey Day" show at Columbus, Miss., in November, 1930.

A suspension threat was made just before Dempsey's exhibition bout with King Levinaky at the Chicago Stadium February 18, but it was not pressed when Sachs and Dempsey appeared before the commission and agreed to straighten out the difficulty. April 15 was set as the time limit, but nothing was done, and the Mississippi Commission imposed the suspension.

General Cline is awaiting information from Thomas Murphy, chairman of the Canadian Boxing Federation, on a report that Schmeling appeared in an exhibition at Toronto last week against Jack Shaw, who is alleged to have posed as George Panka, Pittsburgh heavyweight, and indicated the champion would be barred from N. B. A. territory if the charge is proven.

Lake Katrine Home Bureau Meeting

Lake Katrine, April 15.—A business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. P. Lachmann on Friday afternoon at 1:30. There were 16 members present, including our visitor and Miss Nance, who came to discuss the projects for the coming year.

The meeting was called to order by the vice chairman, Mrs. E. Forman, and the business was carried on as usual.

The local leader for all-purposes, Mrs. W. Kieffer, formed a class of five to take the first lesson on Wednesday, April 27, at 1:30 p. m. This lesson will be held in the upper part of Mrs. Ferguson's barn which is an ideal spot for this work. Any member who cares to take this course will please notify one of the local leaders, either Mrs. W. Kieffer or Mrs. J. Forman. The material needed for this lesson will be: Muslin (4 yards), tape measure, shears, cord, (5 or 6 yards), pencil and dressmaker's pins.

The local leader for the course in sewing, Mrs. H. Ferguson, will give the first lesson at her home on Wednesday, April 20, at 1:30 p. m. The materials needed for this lesson will be: A simple house dress pattern, shears, tape measure, dress material, needle and thread.

Miss Nance then took over the meeting to discuss and instruct in full detail the Rural Women's Market which will open on May 13 at Milton. This discussion proved very interesting and all are sure that the Home Bureau women will take advantage of this splendid opportunity.

CHICHESTER SCHOOL HONORED WASHINGTON

On Friday afternoon the pupils of the Chichester school rendered an entertainment at the school house in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the father of this country. The pupils of the senior room had written essays on the life of Washington, and District Superintendent of Schools Wallace J. Andrews had selected the best paper, and also two papers that were tied for second place. Trustee Burrell Schwarzwaldler had offered a prize to the winner.

The trustee introduced Mr. Andrews to the audience and after making a short address the superintendent presented the prize, a fine Wahl pen and pencil set, to George Coley. George then read his winning essay to the assemblage. Paul Schmiedel and Gilbert Rowe were tied for second place. They also received prizes.

The program follows:

Flag of the Free, song by the school.

Spirits of Days Gone by, nineteen pupils.

Little Miss Tulip, song by the girls.

Washington's Fatal Illness, Gilbert Rowe.

I Cannot be a Washington, Nellie Hill.

Because It's Our Flag, Francis Kahler.

Washington, song by the school.

Young Soldiers, five boys.

Like George Washington, Buddy Eckert.

Who Knows, Virginia Smith.

A Life Like George Washington, Fred Roberts.

The Flag Goes By, seven boys.

Truthful George, Abbie Rowe.

Little George Washington, song by three boys and three girls.

A Modern Washington, Franklin Smith.

Flag of the Free, flag drill, twelve girls.

Accompanist, Elizabeth Schwarzwaldler.

As soon as the flag drill was finished Mr. Andrews again spoke for a few minutes, praising the children's smooth and efficient work in the program. Mr. Schwarzwaldler spoke next and explained that inasmuch as the pupils in Mrs. Schwarzwaldler's room were too young to compete for the essay prize he had promised a present to the primary room in its entirety. He then presented to them a desk clock. The gift was sincerely appreciated because of its attractiveness and usefulness.

This Cedar-lined Closet Says—"Goodbye, Moths!"

NEXT fall when you put your winter clothing, overcoats, possibly furs, and your woolen blankets into use again, and find that pesky moths have dined luxuriously at your expense during the months of storage, you will appreciate the economy of a closet completely lined with aromatic cedar.

Moths simply can't stand the pungent aroma of genuine cedar and it costs very little to have a closet completely lined.

Even though you have a cedar chest, you will like the idea of hanging your clothes so they will not wrinkle or be crushed, and you'll like the extra room so that all of your wooleens in storage may have moth protection.

Cedar linings can be built over your present closet walls, ceiling, floor and inside of the door—easily, quickly and without inconvenience to the household.
